LEGAL CLARITY

By signing this declaration, the Applicant declares that the submitted application material is their own intellectual property, not violating the copyrights and intellectual property rights of a third party. If a third party is successful in enforcing their copyright claim regarding the submitted application material, the Applicant is obliged to inform the Tenderer and reimburse the costs incurred to the third party, as well as damages caused to the Tenderer.

CONFIDENTIALITY

By signing this declaration, the Applicant commits to treating all information obtained throughout the cooperation with the Tenderer as confidential and trade secret; furthermore, the Applicant does not disclose information about the tender to third parties without the prior written consent of the Tenderer. The professional content of the application, the set of requirements, as well as all information provided or disclosed during the consultation period, including the details of the evaluation and contact process, are all considered confidential information. The Applicant further declares that they will not use the tender notice and related information for any purpose other than the fulfillment of the tender. The obligation of confidentiality has no expiration date, it applies beyond the possible termination or expiration of the tender, as long as the Contracting Authority of the tender does not state otherwise in written form. The Applicant acknowledges that in the event of a breach of the obligation of confidentiality, they are obliged to compensate the Contracting Authority for the resulting damages, regardless of whether the breach was committed intentionally or by negligence.

CONDUCT STANDARDS

By participating in the tender, the Applicant is obliged to demonstrate loyal behavior towards the Tenderer at all times, regardless of whether their application is selected or not. By signing this declaration, the Applicant undertakes that the professional and business interests of the Tenderer will not be compromised in any of the Applicant's future publications, behaviour and opinion expressed either privately or publicly. Public disclosure of the application materials (concept description, plans, moodboard, manuscripts etc.) before the end of the event is prohibited. Submitted materials shall be published without restriction after September 26., 2021, 6PM. The Tenderer warrants that submitted information by the Applicant will be treated confidentially in accordance with the current regulations, and that submitted information will not be used unlawfully without the Applicant's permission, neither now nor in the future.
